MOCA Hires Jerry Raeder, AIA as Vice President

Newton, MA – It is with great pleasure that the firm has hired Jerry Raeder, AIA as Vice President. Jerry will guide the nationwide development of our innovative services in support of GSA programs. Jerry has extensive experience in the design and construction industry in building strong businesses through leadership, innovation and client satisfaction.

Previously, he was Vice President of the Infrastructure Sector at Parsons Corporation where he managed 300 personnel. Prior to this, he was a Senior Vice President at 3D/I, a Vice President at Jacobs Facilities, and a Director of Sverdrup Facilities. He was also a Deputy Director of Design and Construction for the General Services Administration (GSA).

Jerry is a registered architect in 20 states. He has a master's degree from the University of Missouri and a bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Kansas.

"Jerry is a versatile executive who has demonstrated innovative leadership with clients and partners in our ever changing design and construction industry. We look forward to having him spearhead support of our GSA clients," says Kevin Bernier MOCA's President and CEO.
